

The media has a clear responsibility. That is to remain indifferent and have a clear voice without bias for either side of a political situation.

For one station to have the power and the arrogance to abuse it in this manner is appalling.

Sinclair Stations should not be allowed to air "Stolen Honor" in the midst of this election. Doing so clearly violates that trust the public has put into those that are in charge of media outlets.

This blatant abuse should be slapped down in the most severe manner available AND should make us reconsider that amount of media any one entity can own.

Sincerely, with the hope that our values can be our own and not foisted upon us by others,

Gladys M. Heavilin